

Annual Meeting of St. Cyprian's Church Congregation Held

Harding Priest, B.A., B.D., Western Field Secretary of the Religious Bureau of Education, who gave an interesting resume of the work of the Society; the sermons of Dr. Roper, M.A., M.D.—all these were products of good and most encouraging."

Reports of the various organizations, given indicated progress, every branch of the church showing a stable financial balance. Thanks were given by the Rector to the various officers and helpers for their co-operation during the past year, and the future, he stated, "was encouraging for all departments of church work."

Many Entries Already in For Fiddlers' Contest

A number of entries for the Old-Time Fiddlers' Contest have been received, and others have signified their intention of forwarding their entry before the expiration date, Jan. 31. J. B. MacDonald, present champion, already has his hat in the ring, ready to defend his laurels, which he will certainly have to do, judging by the list of contestants who are ready to match their skill with his.

Interest is growing fast in this annual event, which promises to be the most successful ever held.

Bounty of Two Dollars Placed On Coyotes

A bounty of 16 cents on magpies or five cents per foot was renewed by the council of the Municipal District of Crow's at its regular meeting held recently. A bounty of two dollars was also placed on all coyotes. Both of these bounties have been in effect since Jan. 13 and the offers expire May 1 of this year.

Central Alberta Hockey League Playoffs Commence Tonight

Home and Home Games with Stettler Will Decide Winner to Meet Red Deer; Game at Lacombe Saturday Night

Play-offs for the championship of the Central Alberta Hockey League get under way tonight (Thursday) when Lacombe travels to Stettler in the first game of a home-and-home series, total goals to count. The second game of this series will be played here on Saturday night.

The winner of the Stettler-Lacombe battles plays a two-out-of-three series with Red Deer for the championship of the League. Olds is definitely out of the league play-offs.

The winner of this league is automatically in line for a place in the Morgan Cup play-offs, which will start with the next week or so. Black Cup play-offs will commence shortly after and all teams playing in intermediate hockey in Alberta are eligible. Draws will be arranged for these play-offs from Calgary and the elimination contests are expected to start before the end of the month.

Lacombe, which still has a chance for the Morgan Cup play-offs, will definitely challenge for the Black Cup.

LACOMBE BEATS RED DEER

Lacombe handed Red Deer their first league defeat of the season last Thursday night in a wide-open catch-as-catch-can hockey game which saw Lacombe finish on the long end of a 10-8 count. The first period saw some smart hockey displayed and was lightning fast, but at times in the second period the game degenerated into a slug-fest. Lacombe played four and five men up the ice.

The local boys started in fast and two minutes after the opening bell Chapman took a beautiful shot from Penman to sink the first courier for Lacombe. One minute later on a four-man rush Havestock—banged in—Brooks' pass to make the locals two up. From there-aways as the Red Deer team tried hard to even the score. Six goals were scored in the last five minutes of play, each team scoring three.

A. Gaetz, on the local line-up for the first time this season, added strength to the local's defence.

Summary of Game

Close to 300 Horses Already Entered for Horse Sale in March

Close to three hundred horses are already entered for sale in the Lacombe Farmers Horse Sales to be held on March 15 and 16 of this year. Early indications would show the sale to be the largest event yet staged. Horses are being fitted and well fed and all steps are being taken by the Sale Executive to see that only first-class horses are entered.

Slim Attendance At Skating Carnival

Keen Competition in Races; Many Splendid Costumes Add Color to Annual Event

Cloves, Gypies, traps — even goons—all turned out in their highly decked costumes at the annual Dress Carnival held in the local skating arena Wednesday night. The affair was under the joint sponsorship of the Ladies' Guild of St. Andrew's United Church and the Lacombe Hockey Club.

The attendance was not quite as large as expected but the zero weather held things back. Youngsters from pre-school age up to adults joined in the costume affair, taking their best to win the eyes of the judges. The costumes were of wide variety and were very original and striking. For children under 12, the carnival went into action at 7:30 p.m. Those over that age took part in the proceedings about 8:45. Scouting for all commenced after the last race in the senior group.

Farwell Party Held for Mr. and Mrs. H. Reed

A very pleasant gathering met in St. Andrew's United Church on Wednesday night of last week to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reed on the eve of their departure for Victoria, B.C.

Mr. Reed left Quebec for Western Canada in 1897, after being employed for 12 years by the C.P.R. as a bridge inspector between Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

The evening's entertainment consisted of an informal social hour, a short impromptu program conducted by Rev. A. L. Carr, speeches by S. Gimmum, Dr. Sharpe and Mrs. E. L. Miskin; violin selections by J. N. B. MacDonald; a song by Mr. Reed and a presentation of gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Reed.

Mr. Puffer, Mr. Pratt and Mr. Vickerson also spoke of their past associations with Mr. and Mrs. Reed.

As old residents and people who rank high in ideals and intelligence, Mr. and Mrs. Reed have made many friends in Lacombe, widely and favorably known. Originally from the province of Quebec, they have lived 25 years on their farm just west of Lacombe. Their daughter, the wife of Dr. Gordon Johnstone of Michel, B.C. The young daughter, Margaret, is a nurse in South Rhodesia, Africa. The son, Edward Reed, recently married, is on the home farm.

A total of 132 students attended the Short Course. According to W. S. Morrison, Supervisor, the school in Lacombe is the largest held so far, and he is gratified with the large attendance and the splendid facilities placed at their disposal, which is by far the best they have encountered at any place where a school has been held.

The following list of students were registered, which shows the large attendance from a considerable distance to take advantage of the school:

Large Congregation Pays Last Respects To Cameron Fraser

St. Andrew's United Church here was crowded Sunday afternoon, when funeral services were held for Cameron Fraser, resident of this district for the last 32 years. He had been a patient in the Lacombe and District Community Hospital for over a month and died on Friday.

Mr. Fraser was born in Lorne, Pictou County, Nova Scotia, on May 1, 1870; he left here in 1887 and came west as a lad of seventeen years. He came straight to Alberta and associated himself with the Northwestern Coal and Navigation Company in Lethbridge, later becoming an employee of the Canadian Railway and Irrigation Company in that city. While in the company's employment as a telegraph operator his eyesight gave out, and he was forced to give up his position.

In 1905, "Cameron" as he was known throughout this district, took up residence with his brother Elmo on a farm four miles north and one-half mile west of Lacombe. Here he lived for some years, doing such chores around the farm as he was able. He moved to the outskirts of town recently, where he resided until entering the hospital.

"Cameron" was known by all residents throughout his district as a remarkably cheerful man, notwithstanding his great affliction. Never complaining, he was a source of comfort to many.

He is survived by two brothers, James Cameron, of this district, and one sister, Mrs. Jack Parker of Calgary.

Rev. A. L. Carr officiated at the funeral. Pallbearers were: Duncan Cameron, W. D. MacKenzie, J. N. B. MacDonald, William Chesson, Harry Talbot and J. J. Kasha. Funeral arrangements were in the hands of the Lacombe Funeral Home, interment being made at the Lacombe cemetery.

Large Crowd Attends Clive Carnival

Carnival Voted a Success

Well attended and voted a real success, a carnival sponsored by the Clive Hockey Club, which was held at the rink, was held last Saturday, Jan. 15. Much interest was taken in the games and races which took place. The local prowess, in a hockey game with the local girls, managed to edge out with a 1-0 win. Much amusement was created in a broomball game by local men and no doubt George Reid will have a hard time explaining how he got the black eye he carries, caused in a mix-up with some players of the other team.

Winners of the races were as follows:

Girls 12 and under—J. Evelyn McCormick; 2, Dorothy—J. Chapman; 3, Helen; 4, under: 1, Helen Harrow; 2, Margaret McCormick; Women's Open: 1, Margaret McCormick; 2, Helen Harrow.

Boys 12 and under: 1, Bennie Knutson; 2, Geo. Bachor. Boys 15 and under: 1, Carl Knutson; 2, Jack Hockenall.

Men's Open: 1, Carl Knutson; 2, Austin Danner.

Double Race: 1, Peggy Harrow and Cyril Hoppus; 2, Lucille Stevenson and John Morton. Peanut Race: 1, Carl Knutson.

A Good Move

THE Provincial Government's determination to halt the waste of naphtha gas in Turner Valley is a point well taken. This step is long overdue and millions of dollars of gas have been burned away with no benefit, simply because no market could be found to consume this commodity. Hon. E. E. Turner, Minister of Lands and Mines, is quoted in the Calgary Albertan as saying he is still hopeful that the major oil companies will find a way to co-operate. He states further in the daily newspaper that the government is waiting for an agreement to be reached among the independent producers of naphtha, the independent producers of crude and the major oil companies. Whether any definite action will be taken and results gained will remain to be seen.

Crude oil has recently been discovered in Turner Valley in large quantities, and it has been reported that the gas is under way whereby this crude will be piped to Vancouver for shipment to Great Britain, which is one of the greatest importers of crude oil in the world. The uncertainty of foreign affairs leaves the British Isles with a possible loss of her present oil supplies in Africa and Persia, and Canada is the logical source for future crude oil supplies for Great Britain. If these negotiations should be brought to a satisfactory conclusion, Turner Valley will indeed be a valuable asset to the people of Alberta. The crude is there, and no effort should be spared in obtaining a market for the product.

The big waste of Turner Valley, however, appears to be in the naphtha gas. If there is a possibility of piping crude to the coast, surely the gas can be piped to Regina, Moose Jaw and all intervening points; and north to Lacombe and Red Deer. While the capital expenditure of laying such a line would be large, still the waste of this gas would be averted and the profit in its sale would more than offset the capital expenditure.

No effort should be spared in investigating all possible markets for the products of Turner Valley.

Strengthening Empire Defences

GREAT BRITAIN'S new naval base at Singapore will be opened early in February with all the pomp and majesty of Britain's wealth and power on parade. While the maneuvers are said to be purely of an opening ceremony pomp, leaders of various nations seen in their subtle warning to Japan that Britain is ready, come what may. Naval ships of the United States are being asked to join in the ceremony, and here again leaders of nations see a warning for Japan of the close friendship between the two Great English-speaking powers.

Ten thousand troops and twenty-four warships, as well as scores of aircraft, including the latest high powered bombers, will concentrate at the great naval base. Three years' work and millions of pounds have been expended on the erection of this base, one of the greatest of Britain's naval stations, and one which, it is hoped, will stop any inroad on India by the navy of a Pacific power.

Britain's decision to build this station is thought to be a distinct obstacle to Japan's growing military power in the Pacific. Japan has already laid plans for the building of four new ships of war, said to be the largest in the world, not excluding Britain's famous battleship, H.M.S. Hood. With the affairs on the East Asia coast so turbulent at present, Britain's determination to open its new base at this time is timely.

Consistency, Thou Art a Jewel

(From the High River Times)
COSGRAVE joined DeValera in supporting a resolution recognizing Italian sovereignty over Ethiopia. Think of that, me lyes; for seven centuries Irishmen fought and bled rather than yield sovereignty to the Sassenach. It is only recognition of a fact, says DeValera. Patriots like Napper, Tandy, Grattan, O'Connell and Parnell didn't talk that way. What they said was, we don't care if it is a fact, we won't recognize it, and it is not a fact unless we do.

"What was that explosion out on Cy's farm?"
"He fed his hens 'Lay or Bust' food and one of them was a rooster."

Harlem is a fine source of hospital humor. The latest concern a colored lady who was asked if she had ever been X-rayed.
"No, sir," she replied, "I have been ultra-violated."

When the doctor told him that he had been bitten by a man, the man immediately began to write on a piece of paper with feverish haste. The doctor said, "You needn't start making out your will now." To which the man replied, "I'm not making out my will; I'm writing out a list of all the people I'm going to bite."

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

Those who were privileged to hear the address of Mr. Donald Cameron, Acting Director of the Department of Extension of the University of Alberta, in the Central Alberta Pavilion last Wednesday night, must have been very struck by his remarks on legislation in general. He said, the one question that was always asked on discussing new legislation was, "Is it practical?" Not how much does it cost? nor, how shall we do it? not even, is it possible? but just, "Is it practical?" The thought flashed through my mind, what would a Dane think of this country, with its duplication of ministers and officers?

A farm woman has to be severely practical in her every-day life or the money wouldn't go round, nor would the time; I believe a Dane and a farm woman would have much the same thoughts about Canada, and her legislation.

If any of you want to spend a thrilling half-hour, studying high finance, get hold of the Public Accounts of Alberta, or any Province in this Dominion, and provide yourself with a bit of paper, a pencil, and a headlight. I promise you an amusing half-hour. I did this one day, with the Alberta Public Accounts, and spent an enlightening thirty minutes. I added the salary of the Lieutenant-Governor, the upkeep of Government House; the salaries of all the Ministers and Deputy Ministers of this Province, and the cost of their cars and travelling expenses; then I added the indemnities of the sixty-three M.L.A.'s and their various special allowances; the cost of Parliament Buildings, and the cost of operating and maintaining the same; and also the indemnities of the Federal M.P.'s, etc. I got a staggering figure, and was amazed. It seems extraordinary to me that 700,000 odd people can be so expensive to run. Then I took this figure and multiplied it by ten, adding a little bit for some of the larger Houses in the East, and also added some for the Senate, and for the extra cost of maintaining the Governor-General and his entourage. Then I passed out! If you take this astronomical figure, and divide it by the number of the population of Canada, you can show that, per capita, Canadians are one of the most, if not the most expensive people to govern in the world today.

As a practical woman, I would like to see all these petty Parliament cut out, and the office of Lieutenant-Governor dispensed with. Discussing this question three years ago with one of the members of that splendid handful of men, known as the "Anger Group" at Ottawa, I found that he entirely and wholeheartedly disagreed with me. He pointed out that, with the best will in the world, he could not get around his constituency as it was, so seemed to feel it necessary to have the larger number of Provincial members to ensure making closer personal contact. He cited the vastness of the Province that housed this 700,000 people. In this age of rail and planes, "vastness" is not a very good argument any more. It seems to me, that if we wish to see this country well governed, and see that the money we contribute by paying taxes is put into the right hands for spending, then it is up to us to choose personally the right men, even if we have to go a long distance to see and hear them. Why should we expect these men, whom we have chosen, to presume, for their executive abilities, to travel miles and miles to give addresses to small gatherings (sometimes less than ten), in inaccessible places? If we cannot take the trouble to go and find out the facts for ourselves, we cannot grumble at what we get, as we have only ourselves to blame if we are not afterwards satisfied.

When I advocate dispensing with the office of Lieutenant-Governor, I do it as an absolutely loyal British subject. The Governor-General is the King's representative in this country; what on earth do we want with a bunch more? There is not a representative of this nature in every county in England, nor in every State in India; having ten representatives of the King in Canada is somewhat fantastic and not at all practical.

As for the nine petty Parliaments, they have only the powers of a County Council, so why deck them out with the pomp of state? I realize that one central Parliament would not solve our difficulties, as the Dominion, through its vastness, presents at least two entirely different problems. The East is highly industrial, the West agricultural, and the two do not seem to be able to get together on a common footing in the one House. But why couldn't we manage with an Eastern Parliament, and a Western one, with the Governor-General and a small body of men as liaison officers between the two? I would like to enlarge on this theme, and hope to at an early date, but I fear I have used up the space kindly allotted to me. So I must leave that thought with you; would not a Western Parliament meet the situation? Surely we could manage with a few less politicians in the various Provinces, and have, in their stead, a full time Council of able business men to run the entirely Provincial matters. It might be worth a try!

Decisions on Alberta Bills Are Expected Soon

Do You Know?
REG. FLETCHER,

who came to Lacombe as a boy of twelve years in 1892. Born in Kent, England, on March 7th, 1880, Reg. came out to the new world with his father and family in 1892. Plentiful advertising of Western Canada was responsible for Mr. Fletcher Sr.'s decision to take up his life in Canada. The family came directly to Calgary, and in May, 1892, Reg's father took up a homestead two miles north of Lacombe, where he farmed for sixteen years and was appointed the first Justice of the Peace of this district. He died in 1908.

Reg. worked on his father's farm until he reached the age of twenty-one years, at which time, in 1901, he homesteaded himself, northeast of town, in the Milton School District. Mr. Fletcher threw himself into his work, and in May, 1902, Reg's father took up a homestead two miles north of Lacombe, where he farmed for sixteen years and was appointed the first Justice of the Peace of this district. He died in 1908.

For the next twenty-five years Mr. Fletcher farmed his homestead, raising livestock and poultry as well as grains. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher have three children—two girls, Ivy, 25 years of age, living in town, and Dorothy, age eleven, attending school here, and one son, Robert, twenty years old, living at home.

In 1935 Mr. Fletcher was forced to leave his farm on account of poor health. He is now living in Lacombe, retired. Mr. Fletcher served two terms as school trustee for Milton School District during his residence in that section.

IT IS certainly regrettable that the rapid perfection of time machines has about spoiled "time" for stage attractions in Western Canada. Legitimate stage companies have found that they cannot compete with local "talkies" and pay the traveling expense of large shows, such as "Blossom Time" and "The Student Prince," which once delighted thousands of theatre-goers in the cities of the West.

Many noted actors have from time to time brought distinguished companies from both England and the United States. I recall seeing Sir John Martin Harvey in Calgary in several plays, including "The Lyons Mail" and "The Only Way" ("A Tale of Two Cities"). Those who witnessed Sir John as Sydney Carton in the latter production will probably agree with me when I say that his acting in that play excelled anything heard in Western Canada in the last decade.

Bransby Williams, also a noted English actor, was always a treat. His characterization of "Vidocq," the detective, in the French play of that name, was a masterpiece. William B. Mantell, and famous Shakespearean actor from Boston, made many trips to the West with fine companies; however, I never had the privilege of seeing him.

Until a few years ago, the San Carlo Grand Opera Company made annual pilgrimages to the prairies and to the Coast; I once heard them in "The Bohemian Girl," and it was beautifully done.

Many people hereabouts must also miss the splendid stock companies which played Edmonton and Calgary for long runs in by-gone days. What would we not give to witness once more some of the old plays they presented, such as "Peg O' My Heart," "The Thirteenth Chair," "The Merchant of Venice," "London," "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "Candy Ricks" and that fear-fetters melodrama of another day, "The Old Homestead," which had the folk from Maine to British Columbia reaching for their hankies along about the third act.

There was something real and human about the old stage—let's hope it hasn't gone forever, like Clementine, for I would like once again to sit back and watch one of those rollicking old comedies, or perhaps an honest-to-goodness "mellodrama."

Canadian merchandise imported into Northern Rhodesia in 1936 to the value of over $300,000, included among other items a large consignment of the public in all dens, milk, agricultural machinery, and preserved vegetables.

By T. B. WINDROSS

EDMONTON.—With counsel for the Provincial Government of Alberta winding up the case for the "veto" on Monday and Tuesday, the question of three "reserved" Alberta statutes, the Federal power of disallowance and the powers of the Lieutenant-Governor, are expected to get the decisions of the Supreme Court of Canada within the next few days.

Whatever these decisions, the questions will then be placed before the privy council in London, according to an announcement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, so that there will be no future doubt on any of the issues.

It is expected, however, that during the Legislature session which opens in Edmonton February 2, the Alberta government will be guided, in its legislation, by the decisions of the Dominion's Supreme Court as an interim verdict.

Argument in Ottawa last week on the Federal power to veto disallowance and on Alberta's press bill, bank licensing bill and bank act, all in dispute between the Alberta provincial government and the Canadian Federal Government, hinged to some extent on the Social Credit theories, although Social Credit itself was not an issue before the court, according to the references, an Ottawa correspondent writes.

"If they can do this, what is there that they cannot do?" asked Sir Lyman Duff, chief justice of Canada, when Hon. J. L. Ralston, as chief counsel for Alberta daily and weekly newspapers, told the court that the Alberta Government's press bill, on which royal assent was reserved to the Governor-General by the Lieutenant-Governor, gave the Provincial Government and the Social Credit Board power to compel the printing of government propaganda free of charge, and to force disclosure of confidential sources of information relating to any news published.

"New System of Government" "This bill and other legislation mentioned in the order of reference," Mr. Ralston told the court, "means that the Alberta government seeks to bring into effect a new economic system and a new system of government, ultra vires of the province; it seeks to license all businesses, to prevent access to the courts, and to buttress this by controlling the press, forcing publication of propaganda and stifling that free discussion which is essential to the government of a free democratic state."

To force a publisher to print what he does not believe to be true, Mr. Ralston contended, is akin to preventing him from publishing what is true. The effect of the bill would be to make a newspaper appear grotesque in the eyes of its readers.

An editorial might appear, the counsel intimated. The chairman of the Social Credit Board, who is the sole judge under the terms of the bill, might not like it; he might object to it. His opinion of it might be entirely wrong, but he nevertheless had power to order a statement of his own published. The publisher might believe, or even know, that statement to be untrue or inaccurate. But short of suspension of his publication, or other penalties, the publisher would have no option but to print it free.

The effect, said Mr. Ralston, would be that publishers would have to refrain from printing anything at all about the government or its policies, rather than lay themselves open to being fined to print that which they believed to be untrue.

This, said counsel, would impair the whole system of government. Elections in a democratic state depend upon popular vote and the right of voters to information and free discussion upon which to base opinions. That right would be obliterated under such conditions. Thus belatedly by lack of criticism within Alberta, a new economic order might be propagated and spread through Canada without the true opinion of Alberta citizens being made available to the rest of the people of Canada. Such circumstances might readily effect the entire circumstances of elections to the Federal House of Commons.

A Constitutional Right

"In English legal decisions, freedom of discussion ranks as a constitutional right," Chief Justice Duff remarked.

"That is my contention," said Mr. Ralston. "This act controlling the press and restricting criticism takes us back to the days when criticism of the government was a crime. It is not 'property and civil rights' within the province under the terms of the B.N.A. Act that are affected, but the rights of the public in all parts of Canada. If this act is possible, then Ontario, Quebec or British Columbia could as well suppress publication of any of the great metropolitan papers that circulate all over Canada." Under the guise of dealing with so-called "credit institutions," the government of Alberta was really setting up a new system of banking, currency and paper money, a field entirely reserved to the Federal authority, said Aime Geoffrion, K.C., chief counsel for the Dominion Government. The credit regulation (bank licensing) act, the bank taxation act and the press act were all part of an illegal scheme to bring about such a new system through coercion.

of business, banks and newspapers, he said.
Mr. Geoffrion and W. N. Tilley, K.C., had advanced strong argument that the Social Credit act itself was wholly ultra vires, and that most of the other so-called Social Credit legislation was likewise outside the authority of any one province.

"Not Casting Mould" "I am not casting any mud on Social Credit as such," said Mr. Geoffrion, "nor upon the motives and ideas of the Alberta Government or anyone else. I am saying that no matter if the purpose

Dance Brawl Leads To Riot Case

At Rimby

RIMBY.—Spectators were packed in like sardines Thursday when Court sat in Rimby, and Magistrate E. H. Jones of Lacombe passed sentences of $25 fine and costs on Row Hancher of Leedale for inflicting grievous bodily harm to the person of Jas. Malcolm, who also resides southwest of Rimby. The charge was laid following a fight in the Leedale Community Hall during a dance held shortly before Christmas, when Malcolm claimed he was only an innocent bystander.

Dr. Ray Troll, who with Dr. J. N. C. Byers attended the injuries to Malcolm's face, after the fracas, was a material witness.

Other Court Cases
Other items on Thursday's docket disposed of were: A farrier living near Rimby was fined $1 and costs for assaulting his wife; a Leedale man was fined $10 and costs for illegal possession of muskrat skins; Charles Dowlan of Bluffton was remanded for trial on a theft-of-grain charge and the case of Stener Tofard of Springdale was adjourned until February 9.

Silk Boycott Held Harmful to U.S.A.

NEW YORK.—The men who speak for the nation's half billion dollar hosiery industry declared that a boycott of raw silk would be more anti-American than anti-Japanese.

Explaining that mills in the United States consume more than half Japan's raw silk exports, Earl Constantine, managing director of the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers, said the overage pair of women's silk stockings contained a fraction over one ounce of raw silk, of which "the outside value to Japan is a dime."

The average retail price of a pair of stockings is 85 cents, he said, "so that for every 10 cents of Japanese value it contains 75 cents of American value and is an American-made product."

"Applying these facts to the boycott against Japanese silk means that to injure the Japanese 10 cents you would injure the American 75 cents, and the boycott becomes more anti-American than anti-Japanese."

George A. Ullrich, executive director of the Throwsters Research Institute, Inc. of New York—Throwsters convert raw silk into yarn for the knitters and weavers—said a boycott would affect the earning power of between 300,000 and 500,000 wage earners in the industry.

Tees Tattle Tales

By TATTTLER

TEES.—To date, six of the nine curlers or would-be curlers from Tees have been eliminated from the big prizes in the All-Edmonton curling competition, but were eliminated by the Peacock team on Friday. In the Eaton trophy final, the kids came up against bright and took no chances, putting their opponents in the consolation, which will be run off during the week. Chas. McDougall's team, after winning one game, were taken into camp for two straight. Peacock's team, with another Teesite, was eliminated by the Badminton Club on Saturday evening, leaving Clark on Brothau's team, Cunningham on Beattie's team and Andy Popovich on Lisack's team, at time of writing. Chances for some of the silver coming to Tees are still good.

Mrs. Gordon Weatherill, accompanied by her husband and prize winning baby daughter, Joyce, arrived home safely Thursday afternoon. Commenting on the new hospital at Lacombe, Mrs. Weatherill gives it plenty of praise, the beds being very nice and comfortable and the nurses very obliging and thoughtful.

Miss Margaret Anderson has recovered from her severe cold and has resumed school again. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sim and boys, also Mr. Anderson of Vancouver, B.C., attended a formal party given by Mr. and Mrs. Sy. Olgivie on the coming-out of their daughter, Marion.

C. Harris returned from Calgary after disposing his car of cattle at that point. He reported a long, tedious trip to the city, as the train lifted stick at every point south of Red Deer.

Quite a few more people are seen in town daily, now that the cream trucks have been taken off, making it necessary to ship by the old reliable C.P. Express.

Mrs. Newton and baby, accompanied by Mrs. Newton's mother, returned home Saturday from Calgary. Miss Putnam, who lives in the next suite, says she is making a pair of ear muffs to deaden the sound. She reports the baby as having a wonderful set of lungs.

James Hanes, from up north, was in looking over the available houses, but has made no decision as yet.

The Hall Board held its annual meeting Jan. 14 and reports a successful year, considering all the severe weather they had to combat during the dancing season. It is a very good report.

Last Friday evening this scribe had to go to Alix and curl. In doing so, the team went down to defeat, and just to add salt to the sore, he missed the veterans' supper at Lacombe. "Oh me, Oh my!"

Young people of the Nebraska district pulled off a surprise party recently on Miss Luella Sim, the occasion being her 17th birthday.

Quite a furor was caused when the shrieks of a strange animal were heard on the evening of Jan. 17. Half the citizens gathered around Miss Peterson's animal sanctuary, where the noise came from, and found a big mink trying to murder one of a pair of Angora rabbits. The rabbit, although almost scared to death, made an awful howl. The only damage done was a few mouthfuls of wool lost, but no doubt it would have been more serious

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Truth." The following is one of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon: "And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, The Lord God merciful, and gracious, long-suffering and abundant in goodness, and truth" (Exodus 34:6). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows (page 312): "Mortals try to believe without understanding Truth; yet God is Truth."

Another team was eliminated from the silver at Alix on Jan. 17 when the kids took the team into camp that our Tom plays on. The only two left in the running now are one with Frank Clark and one with Andy Popovich.

BLACKFALDS.—The Crusaders met at the home of Mrs. Capron on Jan. 19, with ten members present. Work was continued on a quilt and the club hopes to have a nice display of handwork by Easter.

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers at Avalon This Week

How an idle rumor spreads across the Atlantic and injects farcical results in the romance of a famous ballet dancer and a revue favorite forms the story basis of "Shall We Dance?" RKO Radio's latest Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers musical offering, which appears at the Avalon Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Astaire portrays the ballet celebrity, an American who dances under a Russian name for professional purposes, and Miss Rogers enacts the role of the revue artist whose tap-dancing fascinates him. Both characters are prominently in the public eye and as a consequence there is a wave of publicity and newspaper headlines when a rumor is spread they are married.

The public refuses to believe the indignant denials and the results become hilarious in the extreme as the story hurries on to its novel climax. Sparkling with catchy songs and alluring dance numbers, "Shall We Dance?" is said to be the most entertaining and spectacular of all the Astaire-Rogers films.

King Cotton and the Commonwealth

KING COTTON is so old that he makes the British Commonwealth seem a mere strippling. Yet the Empire occupies an important world position both in the growing and the spinning of cotton.

FROM time immemorial, cotton has been cultivated in India and the adjacent islands. Parts of British Africa have known cotton since the sixth century before the Christian era.

FOR cotton spinning within the Empire we must look mainly to England, India and Canada. Our own primary cotton-textile industry is, of course, small compared to the great industry in Lancashire.

THE spinning of cotton yarn and cloth in this country gives employment to twenty thousand persons. This is more than are employed, for instance, in dairy factories or in automotive manufacturing. Canadians employed in the cotton spinning industry are paid annually over fifteen millions of dollars.

DOMINION TEXTILE COMPANY employs seven thousand Canadians. And it pays them $5,000,000 annually. Its plants are the main source of employment in five communities of Quebec Province and contribute largely to employment in a sixth.

Bentley

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BENTLEY.—Miss E. Skodopole spent the week-end with friends in Edmonton.

M. S. Withers left for Wainwright on Sunday, where he was called on account of the serious illness of his mother.

The "Beauty Shoppe" operated by Miss Peggy Gilson has been moved to Mrs. Benson's residence—one block east of its former location.

Born at the Bentley Hospital on Wednesday, January 12, to Mr. and Mrs. Don Pierson of Bentley, a daughter.

A good game of hockey was played in Bentley on Saturday evening, when the local team was successful in defeating the Eckville Seniors by a score of 3 to 1.

The game was fast throughout, with plenty of penalties being handed out. A couple of fights threatened to mar the game. The next game will be in Bentley, between Aik and Bentley.

IMAGINARY SAFETY

Officer (during field maneuvers): "What do you mean? You are standing in the imaginary line of fire of the enemy, 500 yards away."

Private: "I'm quite safe. I'm standing behind an imaginary rock, 30 feet high."

TIME TO CHANGE

She drove up to the oil station and asked the attendant for air for her tires.

"Your tires seem to be up, lady," the station man said after testing them.

"Maybe they are," she replied, "but it's six weeks since we had air in last, and it's bound to be bad by this time. I like fresh air in my tires."

What's In a Name?

By VIOLA MACDONALD

Without wishing to start an argument nor to appear in the least-wise boastful, the village of Rimbey puts forth claim to the most unusual and interesting list of family names, per capita, of any spot in Alberta—perhaps in the whole world.

Commencing with the more illustrious of the "famous," Rimbey catalogues the following: Abraham Lincoln Boyer, George Washington Miller, John Quincy Adams, Benjamin Franklin and John A. MacDonald.

For spice and flavor she has the Lemons, the Onions and the Peppers, one of whom is called "Red," and of the more material are the Corks, Cottons, Stones, Planks, Blocks, Bells, Coils, Bones, Steaks, Shaws and Sacks.

Sounding a pastoral note are the names of Hill, Vale, Moor, Lee, Land, Field, Platt, Woods, Burns, Vetch, Nash, Reed, Palm, Birch, Snow, Reine, Rose, Rainy, Fox, Mink, Crowe, Bird, Swan, Wing, Hunter, Savage (he runs the Fish and Chip shop), Wildman, Angus, Pike, Muddles, Fisher, Troutman, Shepherd, Holsten and Jersey—believe it or not, for years Jersey was the village milkmaid.

Architectural Names
Next in order are the names, architectural, such as House, Lott, Canada, Altar, Picketts, Wall, Gaetz and Miles. For color are the Brownes, the Blacks, the Greens, the Whites and the Greys, and for action are the Giftings, Cummings, the Walkers, the Glydes, the Steppes, the Fords, the Stollings, the Gallipeaus, and to take the place of a family name, have, recently removed, there has arrived another by the name of Trot, which covers the ground nicely.

For descriptive names are those of Humble, Good, Best and Saint. There is a Mr. Short and a Mr. Long—there is Little, More, and Much, not forgetting the Muddles, the Bunches, the Webbs, the Dahls, the Murnas and the Proudloves, the Cockes, the Manns, the Hazards, the Wiles, the Wileys, Wines and the Windgates.

Even the Nobility
For nobility are the Kings, the Knights, the Stuarts and the Buckingham, whose ranch north of Rimbey is called "Palace Land" are the names of French, English, Holland, Welsh and Scotts, and the Cumberlands, and for those who prefer Christian names for surnames, Rimbey provides the Richards, the James, the Williams, the Adams, the Martins, the Johns, the Mathews, the Arthurs, the Wallaces, the Lewises, the Gordons, the Fredericks, the Georges, the Andrews, the Phillips, the Lawrences, the Peters, the Owens, and the Sams.

Next in line are those names ending in "er"—such as Cooper, Spencer, Miller, Parker, Turner, Spooner, Tucker, Taylor, Barker, Stringer, Taylor, Roper and Barker.

When it comes to cataloguing names there are those of Simonson and Eaton, regarding which carries back to a few years ago, when Rimbey's two rural carriers of His Majesty's mail were the Messrs. Simpson and Eaton. Similar in name to the hero of "Treasure Island" is Ben Gunn, Rimbey's Deputy Mayor, and last but not least on this list is the name of Rimbey's very first settler, whose name was Grenoil—who was called "Green-eye" by the neighbors round about, and who, one imagines, had something to do with starting all this rig-a-maro of old names.

Note that the most outstanding names have been listed above—with no mention whatever of the numerous "sons" of the Scandinavians, the "kays" of the Russians, nor the "Mac"s of the Irish and Scotch, but—oh, yes—there are two that must not be omitted—those of "Ivanitch" and "Crummy."

Decisions Are Expected Soon

were wholly praiseworthy, the acts are beyond the powers of the Legislature of Alberta, and entirely reserved by the B.N.A. Act to the Federal jurisdiction.

"The credit of Alberta regulation act, while professing to deal with 'credit institutions,' and to exempt 'banking with the terms of the B.N.A. Act,' was nothing but a bank act in disguise, using the Federal power and aiming to do exactly what the Bank of Canada Act was set up for, as expressed in its preamble."

Mr. Tilley. He attacked the bank taxation act as not being a tax act but a subterfuge designed for coercing the banks into an illegal scheme or eliminate them from the province. The tax itself was discriminatory, one bank being taxed as high as $36,000 per branch and another only $7000 per branch.

Mr. Tilley read the various acts to show that the whole Social Credit Act, the Credit of Alberta regulation act, and the bank taxation act, were in reality all part of an attempt to set up a new banking system, and that the press act was designed to further that scheme by suppressing criticism and confiscating newspaper space illegally for propaganda purposes.

The claim that the idea was nothing but a banking system was proved, said Mr. Tilley, by the fact of the Social Credit act stipulating how the provincial credit account was to be set up, directing the Provincial Treasurer to set it up, providing means of coercion disguised as voluntary agreements forcing traders and retailers and wholesalers to subscribe to the system, and to "authorize" everyone to accept "Alberta credit" in lieu of currency. All that meant nothing but an attempt at a banking system, said Mr. Tilley, and if any further proof of the act's illegality as extending beyond provincial jurisdiction were required, it could be found in the provision for a currency reserve to be set up whereby payments outside of the province would be made and treasury certificates redeemed in Dominion currency or foreign exchange.

Even if the plan were sound, which he denied, it was an invasion of a purely Federal right, said Mr. Tilley. Mr. Geoffroy called the scheme "staggering" and surprising, and one which would bankrupt Alberta or any government in a very short time.

BOTH OFF
"What are these things?" asked the customer.

"Pencil-erasers," said the shop-girl.

"I don't want anything that will erase a pencil—I want a large mark-eraser."

"Have you lead pencils?"

"We haven't any lead pencils. We have wooden cylinders with graphite inside them. Will they do as well?"

The World of Wheat

By MAJOR H. L. STRANGE

Thatcher, that new valuable rust-resistant wheat, is truly an international product.

Marquis formed the basis of the four grandparents of Thatcher, and Marquis was originated by the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. One of the other grandparents was Junco, an Italian Durum wheat. Another grandparent was Kanred, a selection from Turkey Red, a Russian Black Sea variety.

Going back a little further, we find the parents of Marquis in turn were Red Pile, which came from the shores of the Baltic Sea in Germany and Poland, and Cutta Red, an Indian wheat from the Himalayan Mountains.

Thatcher, therefore, going back only three generations, can be said to be the final product of the vision, imagination and talented work of the plant breeders in the United States, Canada, Italy, India, north and south Russia and of Germany.

What a remarkable picture of international co-operation between the scientists in agriculture of many different races and nations; all finally resulting in a considerable increase in income to the farmers of the United States and Canada; resulting, too, in substantial benefits to all engaged in the international wheat industry, and to the people of the whole world who consume wheat bread.

Following factors have tended to raise price: South Africa suffers from worst drought in many years—Argentine crop needs further precipitation—Absence of Argentine wheat competition—Belgian millers have only small wheat stocks—Cold weather in Europe will stimulate bread consumption—Drought delays sowing in Orange Free State—India buys Australian wheat.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Russia makes further wheat shipments—India reports useful rains with crop prospects good—Protective snowfalls received in Russia—Beneficial rains in Algeria and Morocco—Chosen 1937 rice crop larger than 1936 crop—Greece increases propaganda for expansion in rice crop.

A FAIR SAMPLE
A visitor to New York asked a newsboy to direct him to a certain bank, promising him 50 cents. The boy took him about three doors away from where they were standing, and there was the bank.

"Paying the 50 cents, the visitor remarked, 'That was money easily earned, son.'"

"Sure, sir," answered the boy, "but you must remember that bank directors get good pay in New York."

"Since the body does not store large reserves of vitamin C, as it does other vitamins, it is wise to include in each day's meals a food that is high in vitamin C, such as tomatoes, apples and fresh green vegetables."

Arbordale

(From Our Own Correspondent)

ARBORDALE.—The annual meeting of ratepayers was held in the new school house recently. The modern building was built along the plans recommended by the Provincial Department of Education and is the pride of the community. Mr. Johnston was re-elected trustee. The secretary's report given by Mrs. Reisterer was accepted, as was the auditor's statement, which showed a healthy financial balance. No tenders were received for the old school house, so it was decided to turn the building over to the church.

Mrs. B. F. Butcher was re-elected president of the Ladies' Aid at the regular meeting held at the home of Mrs. Urwin. The ladies are busy working and sewing garments for use in the Lacombe and District Community Hospital.

Mr. Urwin is installing an elevated water system in his home and stock barn.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Morer's little daughter, Jean, is being treated by Dr. Stewart of Lacombe for pneumonia.

Returns to California
H. S. Reisterer will leave for California some time in February, where he will resume his studies in Engineering.

A number of young people from this district are attending the Short Course being held in Lacombe.

A large number from this community attended the funeral of late Cameron Fraser on Sunday.

Albert Butcher is being kept busy these days, keeping his customers in ground feed.

Roads throughout this district are open and passable for cars and trucks. The newly completed elevated road, which is about 15 miles, are in first-class shape, and the rest of the roads, bladed, are easily passable.

GRANDFATHERS' CLUB
HAS 240 MEMBERS
ATTENDING MEETS

Two hundred and forty grandfathers met at Holloway, England, and sang songs, played cards, chess and dominoes, and laughed three hours away. The oldest grandpa was 85, the youngest only 60, and their combined ages totalled 17,280 years. Birthday greetings were read to six of them by Ben A. J. Klauer, president of the Grandfathers' Club, and the youngest member of the party. Seven new members, whose ages totalled 383 years, were cheerfully welcomed.

Then all stood in silence for 30 members who had died in the last year. The Grandfathers' Club was organized three years ago, and has prolonged many lives by giving a large number of granddads their only social life.

Gate receipts from the Gibbons-Dempsey fight at Shelby, Montana, were very small.

PUBLIC OFTEN MISLED BY INVESTIGATIONS

Commenting on the long series of investigations into the oil industry, the president of the American Petroleum Institute recently stated that "suggestions for government regulations do not come from consumers of petroleum products."

"When you think about it," he said, "these periodic investigations of the oil business, staged as great battles in the public interest, do not spring from any popular uprising over the treatment the public received from the oil industry."

The instigation of these investigations originates with "a small minority who for one reason or another are unsuccessful or dissatisfied" and who "turn not only on their suppliers but appeal to the government for laws or regulations they believe will improve their situation."

The public, unable to see through the smoke screen of "championing the people," is easily misled.

The producer of a local dramatic society was giving some final instructions before the curtain went up on the first night of the show.

"Now don't forget," he told the heroine, "when the villain takes you in his arms you have to call out loudly, 'Oh! oh! please save me!'"

But the heroine was a telephone girl, and she brought down the house when she cried, "Oh double oh, please save me!"

New Orleans is about forty miles from the mouth of the Mississippi River.

ily misled. It is an imperative need that industry aid the people in understanding how it is affected by economic, industrial, and political issues.

Much can be done in enlarging the breadth and depth of public understanding and in this field industry itself can give great assistance.

To Be Well Means To Talk Less
Are you a person who enjoys poor health? There are many such. At least they seem to take certain satisfaction out of telling their friends and neighbors just how poorly they are. Such an attitude of mind is not likely to help one to be well. People should will to be well and adopt an outlook on life which refuses to accept poor health as something inevitable or a subject to talk about as if it were an asset.

Telling yourself and others about your physical or mental ailments may appear to enlist a certain amount of sympathy but that is really poor comfort. It is not likely to produce in you a feeling of well being. Don't let the worst of your ills crowd them out of your brain if you possibly can. The way to harbor ills and make the most of them is to keep on talking about them.

Successful Social Held By Young People

A good crowd of young people turned out at the second monthly social of the Young People's League in the Church Hall last Friday night. Dancing was carried on for most of the evening, after an opening rally of a lusty sing-song.

Lunch was served by the League for its members and their guests, and shortly before midnight the get-together broke up. Everyone had a very enjoyable time. Florie Christian supplied the music at the piano.
